OPEN CAMPUS

2018 - 2019

Not a Student? Not a Problem!

The Open Campus program makes it possible to take UC Davis courses even if you're not enrolled as a student. Through this program, you'll have access to distinguished faculty, as you study at one of the top-rated public universities in the world. Open Campus students pay on a per-unit basis and are admitted with instructor approval and when space is available.

Open Campus is a great opportunity to take advantage of all UC Davis has to offer. Open Campus might be right for you if you are a high-achieving high school student, a current or former UC Davis student, a student at another institution or even a community member.

1

High School Students

For high-achieving high school students, Open Campus offers an accelerated path to graduation.

- Earn college credit prior to graduating high school
- Save on room and board costs
- Reduce the time to earn a degree

"I was 'between degrees,' and the courses at UC Davis Open Campus facilitated my admission to a Ph.D. program." —Teresa Ellis

UC Davis Students

For current or former UC Davis students, Open Campus provides a great opportunity to get the course credit you need. Consult with an academic advisor to ensure Open Campus can meet your specific needs.

- Get course credit you need
- Complete prerequisites before entering a degree program
- Finish your degree
- Increase your GPA for readmission

3

Community Members and Other Students

Open Campus is an excellent option for anyone in the community who wants to take advantage of high-caliber UC Davis courses without being enrolled in a degree program.

- Take courses for fun and personal enrichment
- Enhance your career
- Prepare for graduate school
- Resume your education
- Complete prerequisites for graduate study
- Earn credits to transfer to another college or university*

*Consult with the college or university you wish to attend before enrolling to ensure your credits will transfer.
